

In the middle of the night

In the middle of the night a child was awake. This child was called Emaline-may. She was an extraordinary child for she possessed gifts that no other could have. Then, suddenly, she heard a mysterious sound, which sounded like a tick-tocking of a clock. She slowly crept out of bed; not daring to make a single sound and as she did so she saw something that would change her life forever and go down in the events of famous history. When she climbed to her window she saw a group of children her age but as were wolves. They were howling and one of them was chanting a mysterious rhyme: she will come in the midst of the storm, holding a clock in the air and all shall be silent.....

All went dark, then a beam of light shot out from the sky and connected to the ground. The were-wolf cubs stepped into the channel of light and as they did so the shocked, ghost-white Emaline-may rushed out and stepped into the channel of light with them without them noticing. As they stepped into the new world an elderly but strong voice said 'We have been expecting you, my daughter.'

'DAGHTER! ,' cried Emaline-may carelessly 'You are a madman; for I am not your daughter. This is a mistake I am from Lilymaiden town and you are from a magic portal made by werewolves chanting like tribesmen performing a ritual.'

'Believe it or not you are my daughter, if I show you this photo of you as a baby you would believe that we are related and that we had to keep you out of danger for a good reason.'

'Ok then, prove to me that I'm your 'long lost daughter' that you had to sacrifice in order to stop peril happening.'

**her father shows her the photo as she rolls her eyes not believing a word this man has said; then she gasps.**

The rest of the pack titters as she goes pale; shocked that this 'stranger' is her father.

'This is the only thing your mother and I had left to remind us of you before Lord Jackale and his wife Carolina-Nefertina came and took over our territory after a battle.'

**he starts explaining how he had to keep his daughter hidden.**

'Before you were born your mother was seriously ill. She needed the golden flower to heal that sickness. I went to get it from Jackale's garden and as I got it Jackale himself appeared saying I couldn't take that flower but I explained that I needed this flower for my wife to get cured from her illness. he agreed but he said that as soon as your mother gave birth his daughter would take the place of the alpha wolf, and that Kofu the most handsome wolf cub in the pack would marry his daughter (Gaira-may the girl who was your best friend). Of course I didn't want to agree to this because you and Kofu were already in a relationship by the time you were 11 and your mother was still ill but your mother was ill and I desperately needed that flower to heal her. So I agreed. Ten years later, when you were 21 he came back saying it was time for Kofu and Gaira-may to get engaged but then I thought about you and refused so Jackale shouted at me saying I couldn't go back on my word and there... there was war.'

'I told Kofu to create a portal leading to Lilymaiden town where you would be safe. So he did and then Jackale stated looking for you and I told him that you weren't here anymore. He went stark raving mad and I took the opportunity to call the pack together saying we had to make a portal to mirage wolf town were your uncle lived so we did.'

Suddenly, there was a cackle and a middle-aged wolf with ebony fur looking at Navine (dad of Emaline-may), Tigerlily (mum of Emaline-may) and the pack with blazing hateful eyes.

'Well, well look what the cat brought into the bag. Navine, the girl will not be marrying kofu and I will not be hesitant to slaughter her or lock her up in my tower were she will be fed on gruel.'

'You know very well I told you that I refused to let that happen,' Navine snarled circling Jackale.

Battle broke out and Jaira was standing at the side with Emaline-may .

'My father said you have a power that nobody else possesses,' Gaira said.

'Yeah I do but I don't know what it is yet, Pa says it's very special.'

Then she heard a voice in her head saying: do it quick your pack's at stake, bring out your watch.

She brought her watch out then a blue light burst out and Jackale disappeared and the war stopped.

3 days later when Kofu, Gaira and Emaline- may at a pack meeting her father congratulated emaline for doing what was right and to her surprise she, Gaira and Kofu were appointed the new heads of the pack.
